

Prices in the health sector based on the same set of goods and services are estimated to be about 10% more in Sweden, 20% more in Norway and up to 39% higher in Switzerland. Prices across all OECD countries are on average around 28% lower than in the United States.

Comparative price levels for health, 2017, US=100

Source: OECD estimates (unpublished).

Source: Health at a Glance 2019.